FAREHAM EDITION

AUGUST 2018

40th Anniversary Communittea

On Monday 23 July we celebrated One Community's 40th birthday with some of our Fareham team of staff and volunteers at the One Community Information Centre in Fareham Shopping Centre. This was a way for us to say thank you for all that they do, particularly the support provided to local people - putting them in touch with services, activities and volunteering opportunities - and to the voluntary and community groups who access the Centre.

We are very grateful to Kari Pratt, Community Champion at Tesco Fareham, and Zoe from Costa in Tescos, for providing the tea for the Communittea event - a wonderful spread of sandwiches, cakes and hot and cold drinks.

The beautiful 40th anniversary cake was kindly provided by Barbara Griffin of "Occasional Cakes by Barb". Pictured above is Jean Roberts-Jones, Chief Executive of One Community, cutting the cake.

Everything in life, in my experience, is a mixture of good and bad. I love the warm weather, wearing sandals rather than boots, ice lollies rather than soup, but I have to be mindful of applying factor 30, drinking more water and parking in the shade.

Running a charity is the same, the delight of seeing your clients enjoy the club or getting the help they need, against having to fundraise and review policies. Budgets are set in the autumn for the following year, so while you enjoy the summer sunshine please start thinking about resources for the year ahead. Start to plan and if you need advice our team is here for you.

Meanwhile we continue to develop our own services to reflect local requirements. Please be our ambassadors, tell people about our Information Centre in Fareham Shopping Centre (opposite Millets, tel 0770280 2556), where we can provide information to people looking for volunteering opportunities; assist organisations with funding, governance and volunteer recruitment, and signpost individuals to the information, help and services they need. For information about our regular drop-ins from support organisations, please see page 4.

Please come to our AGM on 18th September (details over the page), we would love to see you.

Take care.

Jean Roberts-Jones
Chief Executive

Green Tips

There are a few things we can all do to have a positive impact on the planet, to avoid waste, conserve resources and fight climate change. Here's our monthly tip from our environmental friend:

Join in the Big Butterfly Count 2018

The big butterfly count is a nationwide survey by Butterfly Conservation aimed at helping us assess the health of our environment. It was launched in 2010 and has rapidly become the world's biggest survey of butterflies. Over 60,000 people took part in 2017, submitting 62,500 counts of butterflies and day-flying moths from across the UK.

Why count butterflies?

Butterflies react very quickly to change in their environment which makes them excellent biodiversity indicators. Butterfly declines are an early warning for other wildlife losses. That's why counting butterflies can be described as taking the pulse of nature.

The count will also assist us in identifying trends in species that will help us plan how to protect butterflies from extinction, as well as understand the effect of climate change on wildlife.

How to take part

Simply count butterflies for 15 minutes during bright (preferably sunny) weather during the big butterfly count. The survey is planned for this time of year because most butterflies are at the adult stage of their lifecycle, so are more likely to be seen.

Further information is available here:

<https://www.bigbutterflycount.org/about>

Download the handy identification chart to help you work out which butterflies you have seen. You can submit separate records for different dates at the same place, and for different places that you visit. Remember that your count is useful even if you do not see any butterflies or moths.

You can send in your sightings online at www.bigbutterflycount.org or by using the FREE big butterfly count smartphone apps available for iOS and Android.

Fareham Borough Council Hosts First Rough-Sleeping Conference

One Community was pleased to participate this recent Rough Sleeping Conference. Here is a report from the council.

Fareham Borough Council has hosted the first ever conference to tackle rough sleeping in the town.

More than 70 delegates attended, and included key agencies who work in partnership to provide help and support to rough sleepers. The Two Saints Hostel, Hampshire Constabulary and Inclusion Recovery Hampshire joined the Council to explain how they work and highlighted some of the major challenges and successes they face. Representatives from local churches, voluntary groups and other local councils and public-sector organisations were also in attendance.

The aim of the conference was to share information and identify strategies that will further support the work of the agencies and to launch 'Fareham Street Aid', a new initiative through which joint communications can be published. A series of key messages will be developed to support the work of all the agencies and help members of the public who either feel intimidated by being asked for money by rough sleepers, or would like to find a way to help, but are not sure of the best way to do this.

It was made very clear that giving money directly to rough sleepers is not advisable. Charity outreach workers pointed out drug addiction is one of the many complex issues they are dealing with on a daily basis, so it is highly likely that any money given will simply be used to fund that habit. A better solution for those wishing to give money might be to donate to one of the many charities that has staff specifically trained to help rough sleepers.

Equally, it was highlighted that voluntary groups working outside of the specialist agencies, such as those providing regular meals, might unwittingly be helping someone to continue to live on the streets rather than seek the help and support that they need to get off the streets. Rough sleepers can access free meals, and somewhere to sleep, at the Two Saints hostel. Whilst there, they would also have access to invaluable help and advice from staff who have training in dealing with the many complex issues.

That does not mean however, that voluntary groups should stop trying to help. They can make a really big difference by working with all or some of the many specialist organisations that are working in Fareham to try to help those sleeping rough.

Executive Leader of the Council, Councillor Seán Woodward, said: "Tackling rough sleeping is one of our key priorities and it is heart-warming to see such a huge turnout today both from agencies and the many volunteers that are giving up their own time and trying to help. By bringing everyone together I think that those not involved in the day-to-day activities will have gained a much deeper understanding of the range of complex needs that people sleeping rough have and the many services that are in place to help them.

"We will be working together to help rough sleepers off the streets rather than helping them to stay on the streets. That's why it is so important that people who wish to offer support such as money, food, sleeping bags, clothing, etc should give it to the local charities who, together with the appropriate support agencies, are equipped with the necessary resources to deliver what is needed to these vulnerable people.

"I am grateful to all those who have taken time out of their busy schedules to come along today and share their experiences and expertise."

The conference was held at the new conference suite at the Fareham Innovation Centre at Daedalus on 11 July.

Governance Guidance

If you are an Organiser or a Committee Member then you are most likely a Trustee for your organisation and you should be aware of your responsibilities and requirements. At One Community we realise the complexities of your roles and this regular column is designed to support you with this.

“Trustees have overall control of a charity and are responsible for making sure it’s doing what it was set up to do. They may be known by other titles, such as: Directors, Board Members, Governors, Committee Members.

Whatever they are called, trustees are the people who lead the charity and decide how it is run. Being a trustee means making decisions that will impact on people’s lives. Depending on what the charity does, you will be making a difference to your local community or to society as a whole.

Trustees use their skills and experience to support their charities, helping them achieve their aims. Trustees also often learn new skills during their time on the board.”

Topic this month:

Changes to automatic disqualification rules for people who run charities

Changes to Automatic Disqualification Rules from 1 August 2018

From 1 August 2018 changes to the automatic disqualification rules mean that there will be more restrictions on who can run a charity.

For most charities, taking some simple steps to update recruitment and appointment systems is all that is needed.

From 1 August 2018 there will be 2 key changes to the automatic disqualification rules:

- an increase in the number of legal reasons that disqualify someone from acting as a trustee. The new reasons include being on the sex offenders register, and certain unspent convictions - such as for terrorism or money laundering
- people who are disqualified from acting as a trustee are also disqualified from holding certain senior manager positions at a charity

Relevant senior manager positions are both Chief Executive (or equivalent) positions and Chief Finance Officer (or equivalent) positions.

It is important to understand how the rules define the senior manager positions that are affected because it is the function (and not the title) of the position that matters.

Your charity will need to check which, if any, posts qualify as senior manager positions under the new rules.

The senior manager section of the automatic disqualification guidance explains what a senior manager is, for the purposes of the new rules. Under the new rules, there will be no change to the following:

- acting whilst disqualified will still normally be a criminal offence

The automatic disqualification rules do not disqualify people from all involvement with charities. There are other ways in which a disqualified person can be involved with charities, such as through appropriate employment in positions that do not count as ‘senior manager positions’, volunteering, or in advisory roles.

You need to check that current trustees or senior managers will not be disqualified when the new rules come into effect. Your charity should also have systems in place so that, before it appoints a new trustee or relevant senior manager, it can make sure that the person is not disqualified under the current automatic disqualification rules. You should check that you are doing this. It can be done by asking a prospective senior manager/trustee to sign a declaration to confirm that they are not disqualified.

Further information and a template declaration are available here

the questions have been clearly and specifically addressed in line with what we have asked for in the specification.

Do not assume we know how you work

We cannot allocate marks based on anything other than what is written for the specific question. Our experience working with you and answers to other questions cannot be considered.

Focus answers on the contract

Make sure answers are relevant. Focus on how you will deliver this contract not what you have done elsewhere in the past.

Evidence

Providers who are able to articulate how and why they work in a certain way achieve higher scores. Use clear examples or evidence.

Clarification

If you are unclear about what we are asking or looking for, use the clarification period to ask questions. Keep an eye out for clarifications we publish in answer to other Providers questions. Clarifications will form part of the final contract.

Check and double check

Proof reading is vital. Make sure your tender is complete, you have adhered to word counts, no sections missed out, all required signatures are in place and submit in good time. Do not leave submissions to the last minute!

“Top Tips”

From Hampshire County Council’s Procurement Team

The following points may sound obvious but are some of the biggest reasons for potential providers scoring badly and failing to win business.

Read and refer to the specification

Ensure that you are demonstrating how the service you are offering fulfils the specification.

Read the question and examine the criteria

Providers who fail to specifically address the criteria will score poorly. We can only score against the criteria we have set. Make sure each of the points in

Gismobots

Westbury Manor Museum

Exhibition on till 13 October

“My name’s Mark and 40 odd years ago I used to sit in front of my parents’ electric fire making robots and spaceships out of cogs, wheels and bits of wood that my dad bought back from his job as a clock repairer.

Fast forward to the present day and here I am making Gizmobots.

Gizmobots are found object robots that start life as finds from skips, second hand shops, car boot sales and scrap yards. Each robot is carefully crafted by me so that all the parts come together to create a very desirable quirky robot, each with their own personality.

As a qualified electronics engineer, I sometimes re-appropriate old electronic equipment to give some of the robots I make a purpose, such as being an I-pod dock, a desk light or a working radio. As a writer I give each robot a quirky (hopefully humorous!) back-story that I can also customise to form part of a truly unique gift.

I am passionate about recycling and re-purposing objects that have come to the end of their useful life and I teach children (young and old!) the value of an object (whether it can be easily repaired for example-rather than thrown in landfill) and, if it's not able to be saved, then its value as part of a sculpture.

I hope you enjoy meeting my creations!"

Family Fun - Inspired by the Gizmobots, the museum is running a range of fun craft activities (£1-£2 charge) to get involved in each Tuesday in August - drop in and have a go! There will also be a trail to follow around the museum and a make and take activity pack available throughout the summer holidays.
