

Coastal Process Study

An ESCP study to improve our understanding of coastal processes between Hill Head to Gilkicker Point.

- Study Outputs so far:
- Quantify beach volume change
 - Quantify areas of erosion and accretion
 - Quantify sediment input, throughput and output
 - Identify sediment transport pathways
 - Examine possible areas for recycling and replenishment operations

The coastal processes study is ongoing and subject to further funding

Working together - protecting our coastline